THAT PAPER QUESTION.

WASHINGTON, March 13,-The hearing on the paper question was resumed to-day before the House committee on Ways and Means. Hon. Warner Miller concluded his argument urging the injustice of removing the duty on wood pulp as contrary to our own legislation, etc. Hon. Erastus Brooks followed, and urged the removal of the duty which he proposed to accomplish by simply giving the proper construction to the existing law. He urged that the rise in the price of paper was entirely disproportionate to the rise in the price of other commodities, and was due to a combination of western manufacturers. He believed the removal of the present duty on wood pulp would result in the reduction of at least two cents per pound on printing paper, and that unless some action of this charac-ter was taken by Congress, there could be no guarantee that paper might not be forced to most extortionate prices. Captain J. B. Eads appeared before the Committee on the Inter-Oceanic ca-nal this morning, and continued his argument in support of his plan of the Inter-Oceanic ship railroad.

HENRY ADAMS BEFORE THE SENATE EXODUS COMMITTEE. WASHINGTON March 13 .- The examination of the negro Henry Adams was continued before the Exodus Committee to-day. He testified that in 1865-'6 in Desoto parish, Louisiana, he was twice shot at by a band of bandits of white men. The reason given for these assaults being that he was trying to get negroes to leave the parish. He was employed by Major Merrill as servant at $50 per month, but thought that rail splitting was safer work. His people lost all hope in 1877, not because Hayes was inaugurated, but because their condition seemed hopeless. He had urged Hayes to help them, but without suc-cess. The Republican Governor of Louisiana had been appealed to for aid but without success. He thought that Kellogg was a little cowardly. He had been in Arkansas and Texas on the society's business, and found the condition of the negroes in Texas to be very ad. He did not want to tell all of his business; he expected to be killed for what he had already said.

DEMOCRATIC CAUCUS COMMITTEE. WASHINGTON, D. C., March 13 .- The Democratic caucus committee, consisting of Senators Thurman, Bayard, Garland, (central) Johnston and Morgan, held a long session this afternoon upon the subject of providing some method of counting the electoral vote, but no conclusion has been reached. Their opinions differed as to what was best to be done, but the action most likely to be taken is a revival of the oint rule that formerly governed that

STEAMER DETAINED.

ALBANY, March 13.-A telegram reached the offices of Dean & Richmond, of the People's line last night from Castleton, informing them of a heavy ice below that point, which news comnelled that steamer to remain at her ck in this city where she will stay until the river is clear. The peoples line agents in this city sent a telegram to New York ordering the crew to remain in that city. The ice was making quite rapidly.

FIRE RECORD. NEW YORK, March 13 .- A fire broke out this morning in the third story brick building, No 643, 8th avenue, occupied by Stephen McKirtland, dry goods. The fire spread to the adjoining building, No. 641, occupied by Thomas Anderson, teas. McKirtland's loss is estimated at $50,000 and $8,000 to the building: Anderson's loss is $20, 000 and $4,000 to the building. Insured. Cause of the fire unknown.

NOT GRANTED. CHICAGO, March 13 .- Judge Blodgett vesterday instructed the United States Commissioner in an election case to the effect that the United States Courts have held that the 15th amendment and revised statute 5,507, contemplate protection in the right of suffrage only of former slaves, and that free or white men do not come within these legal safeguards. The writ of arrest which had been applied for was therefore not granted.

TREASURY AGENT IN TROUBLE. NEW YORK, March 13.—In the suit of the United States against Harrison Johnston, an ex-special agent of the Treasury, attachment was granted by Judge Blatchford, on motion of Assistant District Attorney Willson, and to-day the U.S. Marshals attached several houses and lots, a number of mortgages, bank account, and a quantity of stock, the property of defendant, and valued at about $150,000. The suit against Johnston, who is at present a resident of Mississippi, is to recover $106,087.72, the value of e tain cotton consigned to his care as such agent of the Treasury. He was agent for the counties of Lowndes, Monros, Oktebe-sha and Noxumbee, Miss., under Sec-retary McCullouch, and it was his duty o assume charge of all the cotton there dleged to have belonged to the so-called Confederate States. THE DIAPHOTE.

Auother Wonderful Discovery An Instrument to Transmit Light as the Telephone Does Sound.

New York Times.

Dr. H. E. Licks, of South Bethlehem, enn., who has been a student of electricical phenomena for several years, read a paper before a scientific society of that place a few days ago, in which he announced the successful issue of a most remarkable series of experiments. He calls his discovery the diaphote, and he claims it will do for light what the telephone does for sound—that is, that it will not create light, but that it will cause its transmission and reproduction. The theory of the two instruments is very similar. In the tele-phone, two diaphragms vibrate systematically, and in the diaphote two peculiarly constructed mirrors are used, which present similar images up-on their surface, though they may be separated by many miles. The receiving mirror is composed of an amalgam of selenium and iodide of silver, and the reproducing mirror of a compound of selenium and chronium. Iodide of silver and chromium were used because of their peculiar sensitiveness to light, a property which is well known scientifically, and which has long been practically utilized in photography. Selenium was added because, after many experiments, it seemed best adapted to so modify the action of the mirrors that each ray of light should influence the electric current proportionally to its position in the solar spec rum. In the diaphote exhibited to the society, each mirror measured 6 inches by 4, and each was composed of 72 sections, each section being connected by its own wire with a galvanic battery and with the section correspondingly situated in the other mirror. The 72 wires can, of course, be bound into a single bundle when properly insulated. When mirrors of unbroken surfaces and a single wire are used of the theory is said to be demonstrated, but unsatis-factorily, as the image is not so well defined with sectional mirrors. Being thus constructed, the diaphote is opefrom an object through an ordinary camera to the first mirror, there they produce momentary chemical changes the amalgam, which modify the ele tric current; and cause similar changes in the remote mirror, thus reproducing a similar image, which, by a second camera, may be seen by the eye or thrown upon a screen. Having thus explained the instrument, an exhibition was given by Dr. Licks. Magnesium wire was burned before one mirror in a distant room. and a committee of the society held various objects in the light thus produced. A trade dollar was first shown, and the audience in the lecture room could distinguish even the date. The movement of the hands of a watch, a flower, a kitten's head, and other mis cellaneous objects were also readily seen. Several independently printed reports apparently establish the truth of Dr. Lick's discovery beyond question; he himself is firmly convinced that future developments will more than make good what is here stated. The only blemish in his discovery at present seems to be a tendency on the part of the mirrors to become disorganized by constant chemical changes, that he hopes to overcome. The imagination almost fails before the possi bilities of what the diaphote may yet accomplish. It would at once solve the problem of the division of the electric light, for many diaphotes would turn a light of a thousand candle power into an indefinite number of small lights, situated in as many places as desired. And as sun-light could also be transmitted, New York may yet see a light primarily produced by the san in regions where sun-light never falls, and where it is daylight when it is night here. In connection with the telephone it would be possible to see and talk with persons at a distance, and the telegraphic forgeries which now periodi cally convulse the stock market would become impossible. Signalmen may yet be made to see hundreds of miles of track at once, and in that case there ought never to be another railroad accident. And in connection with photolithography, newspapers may yet be

Conkling remarked the other day, at Utica, that Grant "must be peacefully and legally inaugurated," even if the Democrats elected their candidate for the Presidency. That is suggestive of Grant's own method in 1876. "Send," (telegraphed Ulysses to Tecumseh) "all the troops to Gen. Augur he may deem necessary to insure quiet and a peace-able count of the ballots actually cast." Conkling and Grant think alike on this subject. They want matters kept "quiet" in a Napoleonic sense through bayonets and soldierism genorally .- Louisville Courier-Journal.

Mr. Justice Field, of the United States Supreme Court, is evidently determined that so long as he has a seat upon that august, or what should be, august tribunal, the true, just and con-stitutional rights of the States shall never want a champion or defender. His recent decisions are of such a character as to make him one of the most conspicuous of public men, and one to whom the lovers of the Federal system are looking with hope, confidence and admiration. February Summer in Kansas. Wichita Beacon.

The unusually warm weather we had during the past month has had a very marked effect on vegetation. The fruit buds are swelled to such an extent that are very apprehensive for the safety of the fruit crop. The blue grass in the yards of this city is as green and vigorour as it usually is in April, and we saw, on Lawrence avenue, some lila bushes, the leaves of which were nearly half grown. The thermometer, during the entire month of February, ranged from forty to flfty degrees.

> The Ute Reservation-Cameron wants Nobody but Grant - Sherman's Prospects-Affairs in General.

TION L CAPITOL.

WASHINGTON, March 12. - Secretary Schurz spent two hours with the joint committee on Indian affairs to-day, explaining the details of his agreement with the Ute Indians. He also submitted a bill which he had drawn to carry out the arrangement, the passage of which he asked of Congress. The bill provides for the ratification of the agreement between Secretary Schurz and Ouray, and authorizes a commission to negotiate with the Utes for a trea y under which they shall surrender to the United States government their reservation in Colorado upon certain conditions. These conditions are: First .- That each Indian, man, woman and child, shall have one hundred and sixty acres of land in severality, within the limits of their present reser-vation on the Grand river, about fifty miles south of the Grand River Agen-

ey. Second.—That the United States shall pay the Indians one and a quarter milhons of dollars, which shall be invested in four per cent. bonds of the United States, and the interest upon which shall be paid to them quarterly, together with the twenty-five thousand dollars per year that is owing to them under the existing treaty.

Third.-The government is to build them houses to the value of $350,000, with a saw-mill and a grist-mill. They are also to be furnished with horses, cattle, agricultural implements, and such other equipments as will be neces-sary for them to start on the road to fortune as herdsmen and farmers.
Fourth.—Four thousand dollars is to be distributed each year among them, in reasonable amounts, in the nature of awards to those who have made the most progress toward civilization. Fifth—The annual salary of $1,000 that is now paid to Ouray shall be continued to him throughout his natural

These are in brief the conditions under which the Utes are asked to surrender the greater part of their reservation. Under them they will be allowed to retain about eight hundred thousand acres. The Colorado delegation are not at all satisfied with this arrangement.

WANTS NORODY BUT GRANT.

Senator Cameron, of Pennsylvania, said to-day that he was very much annoyed at repeated publications and at the little anonymous paragraphs that were continually appearing in the news-papers with regard to his views and position on the Presidential question. He had but one position, had never expressed but one opinion, and did not think he should find it necessary to change either. Without attempting to deny in detail every straggling paragraph purporting to express his views, he would say generally, and finally, that he was in favor of Gen. Grant's nomination to the presidency, and had no second choice. His confidence that Grant would be nominated on the first ballot was as strong as human confidence could be, and he believed that the contest would be practically settled ong before the convention met at Chicago.

SHERMAN'S PROSPECTS.

Secretary Sherman in conversation says that he is quite satisfied with the postponement of the time of meeting of he Ohio Republican convention; that whatever is agreeable to the State committee is agreeable to him. He has received numerous dispatches from Ohio assuring him that all the indications are that he will have a solid delegation at Chicago. At the Blaine headquarters here dispatches have been received that of the Ohio delegation Sherman will not have more than onehalf, and the remainder will be divided between Grant and Blaine.

From Galignani.

We are told of Fielding's "Tom Jones." that when the work was comoleted, the author 'being at the time hard pressed for money, took it to a second-rate publisher, with the view of selling it for what it would fetch at the moment. He left it with the bookseller, and called upon him next day for his decision. The publisher hesitated, and requested another day for consideration; and at parting, Fielding offered him the manuscript for £25. On his way home, Fielding met Thomson, the poet, whom he told of the negotiation for the sale of the manuscript; when Thomson, knowing the high merit of the work, conjured him to be off the bargain, and offered to find a better purchaser. Next morning Fielding hastened to his appointment with as much apprehension lest the bookseller keep to his bargain as he had felt the day before lest he should altogether decline it. To the author's great ov, the ignorant trafficker in literature lined, and returned the manuscript to Fielding.

He next set off with a light heart to his friend Thomson; and the novelist and the poet then went to Andrew Millar, the great publisher of the day. Millar, as was his practice with works of light reading, handed the manu-script to his wife, who, having read it, advised him by no means to let it slip through his fingers Millar now invited the two friends to meet him at a coffee house in the Strand, where, after dinner, the bookseller, with great cau-tion, offered Fielding two hundred pounds for the manuscript. The novelist was amazed at the largeness of the offer. "Then, my good sir," said he, recovering himself from this unexpected stroke of good fortune, "give me your hand-the book is yours; and waiter," continued he, "bring a couple of pottles of your best port." Before Millar died he had cleared eighteen thousand pounds by "Tom Jones," out of which he generously made Fielding various presents to the amount of two thousand pounds; and, when he died, he bequeathed a handsome legacy to each of Fielding's sons.

Killed at the Marriage Altar.

In the midst of the great events of the war such incidents as the following were comparatively unnoticed, and left to be long afterward related in print: Miss Annie Pickens, daughter of the governor of South Carolina, was to be married April 22, 1863, in Charleston, to Lieutenant Andrew De Rochelle. wedding party was assembled in the Pickens residence, and the clergyman was asking the bride if she was ready, when a shell from a Union gun in the narbor broke into the room and burst. Nine persons were hurt, but only Miss Pickens' wound proved fatal. She bore the pain with wonderful fortitude, and was unmoved when informed that she had only an hour or two to live. Rochelle said that be would like to have her die his wife, and the poor girl smiled sadly in assent The guests remember the scene as far more pitiful than they can describe. The bride lay on a sofa, her white dress dabbled in blood and her hair dishevelled, while her paliid face was so wrung with tion.—Exchange.

agony that her efforts to smile became futile. The ceremony was hurriedly performed, though the bride's "Yes" was in a faint, labored whisper, and her lips hardly moved in response to her husband's kiss. She died immediately afterward.

NIHILIST HARTMANN.

How They Traced the Man Who Tried to Blow Up the Czar of All the Russias.

It seems, writes a Paris correspondent on the subject of the effort to blow up the Czar at Moscow, that about a month before the attempt a man ap-plied to a watchmaker and optician a Moscow for a first-class electric appa-tus for the purpose of scientific experiments. They were rather expensive, and the man offered in exchange a gold watch worth £70. The bargain was agreed to, and the man handed over the watch, gave a fictitious name, and took away the apparatus. When the outrage occurred it was found that electric wires connected the mine with a house not far off. The house was rummaged, and in it were found electric batteries and apparatus. It was ascertained that this house had been let and tenanted by a man and woman, with a coachman and their horses. On the evening of the crime the carriage stood equipped before the house and the coachman in tront of it. Immediately after the explosion the man, the woman and coachman went off at a quick trot, and they were not again seen. The proprietor who had let the house to them had been paid beforehand and did not know them. The electrica instruments, which were recognized by the tradesman who had sold them, were seized, but he had since disposed of the watch, and no trace of it was to be found. All the jewelers and watch-makers of Moscow were put on the lookout, and a few days afterwards one of them informed the police that the present possessor of the watch wished to sell it. It was seized, but no Moscow watchmaker remembered having sold it. The police had it examined from town to town to St. Petersburg, where it was recognized by a watchmaker, who stated that he had sold it for eight hundred roubles to a St. Petersburg lady. The lady declared she had given it to a certain Hartmann, brother or relative of a person perfectly well known in St. Petersburg. At the same time the lady handed to the police a photograph of the man. The photograph was recognized by the man who had sold the electrical apparatus and by the pro-prietor who had let the house to him. The police set out on this scent, and soon came to the conclusion that the presumed assassin was in Paris. Russian agents were sent there and brought his photograph, and I have stated above how Hartmann, who also called himself Karl and Mayer, was arrested

West of the Blue Ridge every man, without distinction of party, is pledged to the completion of the road, and no man goes to the Legislature from that section who is not thoroughly committed to get every dollar possible appropriated, and they re always ready to form combinations with anybody or any assertion, and go for anybody's appropriation who will vote for theirs, and by this means many bills are passed that otherwise would have no strength. As a matter of policy this Western road should be eliminated from the politics and legislation of the State.

Don't You See?

Statesville Landmark. One of our North Carolina newspapers has an article headed "Why has North Carolina had no Immigration?" Come up right close, buddy, and let us tell you. This is the reason why: If any immigrant comes here with brains and money to use for his own and the general good, so many people like yourself call him a ringster, a land-shark and a bloated bondholder that he can't stay in peace, and so don't stay at all. You boast of North Carolina's extraordinary natural advantages, her undeveloped resources and all that sort of thing, and then when you get a stranger to believe you, and to come down here to trade for some of your property, you turn around and accuse him of trying to steal you out of house and home. Now you know why North Carolina has had no immigration. Don't you see the point?

More About the Nicarauga Canal. The arrival in Nicarauga is announced of Don J. Tomarle Franco, who was proclaimed as the bearer of important ropositions from Gen. Grant and Admiral Ammen looking to the obtaintaining of a concession from the gov-ernment of Nicaragua. The Gacita Official, states that Mr. A. G. Menocal is expected at an early date, "to treat on canal matters," and says: "We know now that it is a fact that a respectable company of American capitalists and French bankers, among which figure the name of Rothschild, and which will be presided over by Gen. Grant and Admiral Ammen, will be organized as soon as as the concession which will be asked from this government is obtained, with which object and with proper power the civil engineer of the States, Mr. A. G. Menocal, will arrive by the first steamer." Nicarauga papers generally denounce M. de Les seps's visit to the isthmus as part of scheme or humbug in the interest of s company, and await with anxiety the arrival of Mr. Menocal.

APPALLING DISTRESS AMONG THE NORTHERN PEASANTRY. Five Striking Cases Given to Illus trate the Destitute Condition of County Donegal.

James Redpath, the New York Tribune's special correspondent in Ireland, preparatory to leaving Dublin for a personal inspection of those districts where the people are reported to be most destitute, requested for his guidance letters from Catholic priests in charge of parishes in the Northern counties. Extracts from letters received from the north are given below. These statements, made by the parish priests may be taken to fairly describe the present condition of the peasantry in the hunger haunted regions of this unhappy country.

This is the extreme northwester'y county, and the letters are from two of the most destitute parishes: KILLYBEGS, Feb. 22.—May I ask you to make known to our American friends the mass of misery and destitution that so exclusively pervades all parts of this parish. I have been the greater part of forty-six years in the parish, both as curate and parish-priest, and I have seen nothing to approach the sad affliction with which we are

Our country has been sinking fast into a deep guilf for the last three years, out of which no amount of private charity will extricate it. The failure of the crops for the past three years has caused a deficit of some £35,000,000 sterling, £12,000,000 of which is placed to the loss sustained by the failure of the potato crop. The population comprises 3,168 persons equal to 600 families principally small farmers, one-half the number paying under £4 rent and the others from £4 to £10 per annum. The quality of the soil is poor.

There is no market for labor, and the men are principally employed on the scanty labor on their farms and in the fisheries. We have no employment for the women. Formerly every cottage had its spinning wheel for making woolen thread and linen yarn, and in most of the cottages there was a loom for the weaving of cloth and linen. But this important branch of industry has now disconversed owing to the introduced in the contract of t now disappeared, owing to the intro-duction of machinery, and the erection of large factories in cities. The looms have been broken up for fire wood, and other manufactures have been crushed out by partial legislation to favor England. Out of a population of 600 families in this parish, 500 families have received relief from our committhe for the last five weeks. The poor people are plunged into so much debt that no amount of public charity will apply a sufficient remedy.

Here are a few instances of the misery around us: First—Edward McGuire, Rescorkin, has a small patch of ground; fifty years of age, wife forty; six of a family; a bunch of rags to cover them at night; two blocks of wood to sit on, and an old dresser form the entire stock of furni from the Relief Committee.

Scond-Phelim Gallegher, Roughra, ten of a family: wife paralyzed for the ast seven years; small patch of mountain land; no food, no fuel, no bedding no clothing but old sacks.

Third-Micky O'Donnell, Gortnagolan, three of a family; wife has only an old sack on her; no fuel, no food.

Fourth-Thomas Gallagher, Conlan, eleven of a family, five of them well bass mats tied round them for clothing, no fire, no bed but straw. Fifth-Pat Gillespie, Carrickatugart his wife and son, live in a hut formerly byre for calves; entrance to it three fe high, entire space within 10 feet by 5 feet; furniture consisting of a rickety chair, no bed, no bedding but some straw scattered in a corner. Their only pro-perty, two hens. The suffering from sthma and not capable of work JAKES STEPHENS, P. P.

CLOUMANY, Feb. 22 .- All the people with the exception of nine or ten families occupy land. The average size of the farms is about four acres, but many have not more than two in which the can put any crop. Out of an entire population of 1,000, numbering about lifty families, nearly 400 have got relief after a due investigation into their circumstances, and I can say from per-sonal knowledge that almost 100 more sonal knowledge that almost 100 more are suffering intense want. There are 200 families whose only food for weeks has been Indian meal prepared with sometimes, for a variety, in the form of a cake. They would not complain even if they had a sufficiency of this food. A poor woman, wife of Dan Doherty, of Altahal, came to me about a fortnight ago; she had nine children. I knev the family quite well. The house in which eleven of a family live is made up of a single apartment; there is no furniture, even of the rudest kind, except a couple of stools and an apology for a bed, with a few old rags to do th place of covering. This woman, as I say, came to me and told me that her family had nothing to eat. The only thing they possessed was a couple of hens which she sold to get a little meal. I was called to attend a man who, the doctor declared, was dying of dropsy brought on for want of nourishment. The man was rolled up in what once had been a shawl. This and an old sheet was the only covering he had on him. The house was destitute of every kind of furniture. The children were literally naked, and gathered around a few smouldering sods.

If there was any demand for labor the case would not be so very hard, but there are no large farms, and each family is able to do the work of their own little farm within themselves. The causes that brought on the present criis have been accumulating for the las three years. The immediate cause is the great failure of the potato crop; the other principal causes are the failure of the English labor market and the decrease in the price of every kind of stock.

About 900 men go annually to the harvest in England; these bring home on an average £8 a man; last year they did not average above £2 a man. Several families along the shore a few years ago made from £10 to £12 a year on kelp; last year they made nothing, nor can they for the future, as this industry is superseded. Another great cause is superseded. Another great cause and the most prominent one-is absenteeism. All the landlords are English men, and there has been a continual drain of £5,000 a year from the place without any return in its stead; more over, the landlords have made no efforts so far to relieve the distress-at least as far as my knowledge goes. There is much need of food and seed. If seed is not supplied to the destitute farmer a much worse fate awaits him next year. Yours faithfully, J. MAGUIRE, P. P.

A Plan to Irrigate Vast Tracts of Land in the West by Artesian Wells. Land in the West by Artesian Wells. It has lately been proposed to sink experimental artesian wells upon the now arid public lands for purposes of irrigation. There are 9,000,000 acros in the arid region, which includes Arizona, Dakota, Idaho, Montana, New Mexico, Utah, Wyoming, Colorado and Nevada and portions of California, Kansas, Nebraska, Oregon, Washington, Texas and the Indian Territory. Not 1 per cent. of this land has yet been sold by the United States, and it must remain unsold for years to come unless remain unsold for years to come unless some means are found to supply it with water. Government surveys show that 200,000,000 acres of this tract are mountainous, where even with an abundance of water agriculture would be impossible. An equal amount of lava beds—"bad lands," without soil or vegetation, and desert plains of drifting sand. This leaves an area of 500,000,000 acres of plain and valley land, susceptible of high cultivation and wanting only water. Under the most favorable conditions probably not more than 3 per cent. of this land can be reclaimed by the utilization of rivers and small streams now available. The remainder, to some extent, is utilized for pasturage, but the growth o grass is so scanty that it requires from fifteen to twenty-five acres for the support of each head of cattle, and, for this reason, the land, of course, would not be profitably sold. In Colorado alone are 40,000,000 acres of this land canable of producing from 25 to 30 capable of producing from 25 to 30 bushels of wheat per acre, if irrigated. The people of the West desire Congress to appropriate $50,000 for boring arte-sian wells, the land being the property of the government. Private enterprise will not undertake the experiment, but let the practicability of irrigation by artesian wells once be established and private purchasers will be found who will carry on the work of boring at their own expense. Some of the ablest geologist in the country have expressed the opinion that flowing wells can be obtained in many localities on the plains east and west of the Rocky Mountains, and the Commissioner of Agriculture, under whose auspices special attention has been given to the subject, has recommended that artesian

GRANT IN MEXICO.

An Unbroken Series of Welcome Throughout the Republic.

GALVESTON, March 11 .- A News special from the City of Mexico, March 9, says General Grant and party arrived at Pachuca on the evening of the 4th, and were received at the residence of Senor Landes, Director of the Real Del Monte Mining Company. On the morning of the 5th they visited Benefico, where the valley was being drain ed. The party went from there to Rosario and Santa Getruders Mines. The party was saluted at Portesula de la Robia with three cheers by a party of thirty Englishmen, who waited for them there. They lunched at Santa Getruders, and the same evening, with the exception of General Sheridan, visited Puressima Hacienda and the San Francisco church. On the 6th the party lett to visit the Lower Haciendas and Real Del Monte, and returning to Pa chuca left immediately for Puebla where they arrived the evening of the 9th, and were saluted by a salvo of ar-tillery. The depot was decorated and crowded with people. The General was met by a Government committee and subsequently by that from the City Council. He replied to the greeting of the committees in a few appropriate words, and was then escorted to the Palace de la Hidalgo by several bands of music and a large procession. Two bands played till a late hour before the palace. General Grant telegraphed Mrs Grant during his stay in Puebla that she might meet him there, with al belonging to their party. The General visited the Governor of the State at 10 morning. A grand bull-tailing will be given to-morrow at Puebla.

Destructive Fire in Louisburg-The Farmers of Wilson - The Duplin Canal Company Organized.

PRANKLIN.

Louiseure, March 11.—A fire broke out this morning, about 2 o'clock, in the large two-story, double tenement brick store belonging to General P. B. Hawkins, and occupied by Mr. F. W. Egerton for the sale of general merchandize. The fire was discovered in the bedroom of Mr. Egerton's clerk, originating from a defective flue. The store was entirely destroyed; no insurance. The large frame store adjoining, kept by Messra. White & Shaw, was saved with but little damage. Their goods were badly damaged by water and removal; they are fully insured. I have never seen better work done by both white and colored. I cannot give you particulars in this letter, but will write you more fully in a day or two, and will give you an estimate of the loss. The insurance companies will to lose very heavily. Louisburg, March 11 .- A fire broke

WILSON.
Tolsnot, March 11.--The weather has been remarkably dry here during the past winter, though we are now having plenteous showers and there is a freshet in Tar river; it being the first one since last spring it is something unusual.

Your correspondent attended preaching at Moore's Church a short time since, and noticed while on my way the building and rebuilding of new fences, and the quantities of compost that are being hauled on every hand speaks well for the farmers of this community. We wage our word that they reap a bountiful harvest; in fact, they seem to be fully impressed with the contents of the Davidson pot, as they rise early and are plowing deep.

There is much diversity of opinion here on the Western dailroad question. We only know that it is a grave question, and requires no little thought on upon those who are concerned. P.

MAGNOLIA, March 10.—At a meeting of the stockholders of the Duplin Canal Company held at this place to-day, Mr. Thos. S. Car, of Duplin, was called to the chair, and Mr. John T. Bland was requested to act as secretary.

Ghosts. Not Colonel Ingersoll's "aristocracy of the air," but real human ghosts. Ghosts that were once healthy men and vomen, but are now simply the ghosts of what they once were. As we meet of what they once were. As we meet them, and inquire the cause of all this change, they repeat the old, old story, "a cold," "neglected cough," "catarrh, "overwork," or dyspepsia," "liver complaint." and "constipation," with unsuccessful physicians and remedies. In offering his Golden Medical Discovery and Pleasant Purgative Pellets for he cure of the above affections, Dr. Pierce does not recommend them as a ure cure in all stages. For if the lungs be half wasted away, or there be a cancerous complication, no physician or medicine can cure. The Discovery is, however, an unequaled pectoral and however, an unequaled pectoral and blood-purifier. It speedily cures the most aggravated cough or cold, and in its early or middle stages, consump-tion. By correcting all irregularities of the stomach and liver, it readily cures blotches, pimples, scrofulous ul-cers, bunches or tumors. Hundreds testify that it has restored their health, after eminent physicians had failed. For constipation, use the Pellets. As a local remedy for catarrh, use Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy.

THE bill reducing the fares on the New York elevated railroads to five cents passed the Assembly of that State, Friday, by a vote of 86 to 10. There seems to be no doubt of its passage by the Senate and approved by the Governor. The horse car surface railways, it is understood, will at once adapt themselves to the situation, and reduce their fare to three cents.

THERE is no doubt that the coal miners of Pennsylvania have determined on a general strike, and the trouble promises to be an ugly one. The worst feeling prevails among the malcontents. They declare their wages do not afford them a living. Their rallying cry, "Bread or blood," has an ominous sound in view of what has heretofore happened in that region.

THE National Board of Trade last December offered $1,000 for the best essay on the subject of adulteration of food and drink in the United States, together with drafts of State and National laws on the subject. The Committee of Awards will meet October, to make their decision. Dr. I. S. Billings, Surgeon United States Army, Professor Chandler, of New York, and John A. Gano, of Cincinnati, are members of the committee.

THE trustees of the Peabody fund for education in the South have sent a memorial to Congress an approprition of money by the government, to be added to this fund, for the purpose of advancing education among the colored children of the South, who are growing up to be voters. The memorial is a very strong argument in favor of granting an annual appropriation to increase the fund furnished by private philanthropy, and was drawn by A. H. Stuart, of Virginia, Chief Justice Waite and Secretary Evarts, who were appointed by the trustees of the Peabody fund as a committee to seek the necessary legislation from Congress.

A MAN in Newton, Massachusetts. has invented and patented a ballot-box that he claims is fraud-proof. If this is the case, he has struck a very valuable thirg, that as the ancients used to say, "will fill a long felt want." The box is a very simple one, and works as follows: The ballot is put in at the top, through a small slit, and then passes between two rollers, on the largest of which is a canceling stamp. After the ballot is cancelled it falls into the bottom of the box, the receptacle for the ballots. The ballot is drawn between the rollers by the turning of a clank, and when it is turned a bell rings, to call attention to the fact that the box is in operation. A register is attached which shows correctly the number of ballots that have passed into the box. The ballots can be removed from the box at any time while voting is in progress, and be counted; but when any are taken out the canceling stamp is changed, so that every lot removed from the box will bear a different stamp. If two or more ballots are put in at once, only one is cancelled, and the register will indicate that only one ballot has been cast. The number of votes cast must agree with the number indicated by the register, and, if they do not agree, it shows that fraudulent votes have been cast.

THE disarming of the San Francisco militia and concentration of a large body of United States troops at that point, indicate a growing solicitude on the question of maintaining peace there. The trouble finds its occasion in an attempt to enforce the anti-Chinese provisions of the new Constitution. One Parroit, President of a Quicksilver Mining Company, has been arrested for non-compliance with the law passed in conformity with that Constitution, forbidding the employment of Chinese labor, and has made his appeal to the United States Courts, on the ground that the law, being in conflict with the Burlinghame treaty with China, is necessarily void. There is no question that the United States Courts must so decide. That point has already been affirmed by the United States District Court of Oregon.

The certainty of such a result of the impending judicial conflict has aroused intense excitement among the Sand Lot population, who have been full of threats and preparations for a fight, These menaces, on the other, have stirred up the respectable portion of the people, and they have responded to the threats of the Kearneyites, by warning them distinctly that if they do attempt to violate the peace they shall rue it.

But, meantime, there are two classes who see no great promise of quiet and prosperity in the situation. Large numbers of capitalists, entirely distrustful of the safety of their property under that constitution and a Hoodlum rule, are transferring themselves and their money to the Atlantic shore. A good many of the Chinamen are taking the same course. They see that even if the laws are annulled, a violent popular animosity remains which will be fatal to peace and personal security. Consequently nothing but poverty impedes a rapid movement towards the interior of the continent. Several hundreds of Chinese from San Francisco have reached New York or vicinity within the past few weeks.

Unless the Hoodlums, therefore; push matters with great violence and bring upon themselves the power of the United States government while they stir up a profound and sweeping reaction in the State, they will force an exodus of the Chinese at last, by a system of untiring persecution which makes life there intolerable, so that the Chinamen will leave as fast as they can get the means of travel. The laws may be annulled-the courts extend all the protection they can -even the reputable citizens may take the part of the Chinese in the controversy, but it will be all in vain if the Kearneyites and Hoodlums persist in an inexorable war. They will wear out the Chinese in spite of all, for they alone will be tireless in their inflictions on these defenseless people.

urham Recorder. An Extra Session of the Legislature is convened—ostensibly to consider the sale of the Western X. C. Road But it is not restricted, and we ask with due difference of other important matters may not be considered and per-fected, the School Birl? At the last session, the School Bill was passed and died in its legislative career. Now, may not that be taken and made operative? Let the bill start from where it ceased its life. Let it be re-animated Let the suggestions of defects be at tended to, and faults remedied—and then let the bill be passed.

A good school bill is what the people demand; and the last corresponded generally to popular want. A tax on that subject they will not regard. A day or two devoted to the question will re-vive and perfect it, and then such a school bill as we want will be given to the people of the State.

"Hello!" Hello!" "Well, hello yourself."

"Is that you, Central Office?" comes through a telephone as if some one was about to die. "Hello 101, is that you?" "What's that?" "I don't hear you!" "What did you say?" "Well," "I don't catch you yet!" "Go ahead, 101." "Hello! Hello!" "The blasted thing don't work at ail." "I say, Central Office!" Long pause, during which time one stands balanced on his dexter leg with the receiver at Well, hello yourself."

on his dexter leg with the receiver at his ear. "dello, again, Central Office, what is wanted?" "Send for the in-spector." This is what can be heard in every railroad office, every bank and lawyer's office in the city at any time of day. You feel like exclaiming: "O, telephone, hallowed be thy name.' The instrument is a first-rate thing to hello through, but when it comes to the talking it very often isn't there. But then it's a great consolation to think that one can put his mouth to a hole and yell, "Hello," and somebody somewhere can hear you and answer, "What is it?" and then "hello" back at you. The little instrument which is suspended to the wall, and every now and then startles you with a sudden ring, it is said, will be of no use in a country where they can't yell "hello!" Truly the world must have been born for the telephone, for when one talks to a friend he says "hollo!" but now that it is telephoned it is "hello." There seems much to be done yet to get them into a state of perfection, where you won't get a jumbled-up jargon or a muffled message which sounds as ugh the man at the other end had his overcoat folded over his mouth or was talking to you through a fifteen cent comb. Verily. "Hello? Hello?"

BLOOD AND SKIN HUMORS, The Scourge of Mankind. Old Methods of Treatment and Remedies a Failure.

CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the Great Blood Purifier and Liver Stimulant, is the most searching, cleansing, and purifying agent of this country. It may be detected in the saliva, sweat, milk, blood, and urine in forty minutes after taking the first dose, showing that it has entered the circulation and been carried to every part of the system. It forever eradicates the virus of Syphilis, Scrofula, Cancer, and Canker, those terrible blood poisons that rot out the machinery of life, filling the body with foul corruptions. Taken internally in conjunction with the external application of Cuticura, the Great Skin Cure, it speedily cures Scrofulous Ulcers and Old Sores, Salt Rheum, Psoriasis, Tetter, Ringworm Scald Head, Dandruff, and all Itching and Scaly Diseases of the Skin and Scalp. dies a Failure.

ECZEMAON THE SCALP. BREAST AND LIMBS CURED.

Messrs. Weeks & Potter: Guolemen-I cannot refrain from adding my debt of gratitude to you for having placed within my reach the wonderful Cutruura Rememy reach the wonderful CUTICURA REMEDIES, which have rendered unnecessary all further experiment of physicians, and in a remarkably short space of time have rid me of a loathsome disease. I dispensed with all physicians two years ago, believing they did me no good. The CUTICURA has stopped this unsatisfactory expense—even if it vers necessary and I had the courage any longer to follow their advice—and brought the long-looked-for cure and happiness. have been afflicted with Eczema or Sal I have been afflicted with Eczema or Salt Rheum on my scalp, breast, and limbs for five years, during which time I have been under the treatment of physicians, or at mineral springs, or taking some kind of medicine. I have been treated by Drs—of—, Dr.—of—, and visited sulphur springs and taken numbers of patent medicines, all without the faintest approach to a cure.

April 1st last, I began the use of Cuticura, which was immediately successful in my case, entirely curing me. I have not had a clean scalp for 15 years until the use of Cuticura entirely healed it and left it clean and healthy. The other parts of my body were affected in a more aggravated form, but are now completely healed. I believe myself completely cured. I shall continue the CUTICURA RESOLVENT as directed, for its wonderful action on the stomach and bowels and cooling influence on the blood. It will afford me pleasure, as I have done in many cases, to urge the afflicted to use these wonderful remedies.

Yours, etc.,

STEPHEN CROWELL.

A Rare Chance for Investment.

Wishing to give my whole attention to the lumber trade, in which I am about to engage on a larger scale than ever before, I offer for sale on terms to suit the times the following valuable property in Cary:

MY PLUG TOBACCO FACTORY, in a BRICK building 50x80 feet, 3 stories high, the lower story being two large storerooms. The Tobacco Machinery is new and has a capacity of manufacturing 1,000 lbs, per day. The factory has been worked a year, and a good beginning for a trade has been made. The building and the machinery will be sold together, or separately to suit purchasers.

GRAIN MILLS,

in a 3 story brick building, 28x40 feet. Two Wheat Mills and one Corn Mill, new and complete with a capacity for grinding 100 bushels of wheat and 100 bushels of corn a day, and can compete in quality of flour with any mills in the State. The mills have had a very large local patronage during the past year. They are driven by a 60 Horse Power. They are driven by a 60 Horse Power STEAM ENGINE, improved, of the make of Talbott & Sona, Richmond.

Attached to the engine is also a 60 Saw Cotton Gin and power press, at a safe distance (about 100 feet) in a different lot. The engine has a N ick smoke-stack 60 feet high, making the danger from fire the least possible and the rate of insurance very low.

F Several well built and handsome residences, with lots and gardens of about 1 acre to each dwelling. They are wooden buildings, 2 stories high, with from 5 to 7 rooms each, situated in desirable locations in the village.

Decters, Will Differ. The following characteristic letter speaks for itself; is plain English; needs no interpreter. Read it:

NEW MADISON, OHIO, February 18, 1880. J Messrs. Landrum & Litchfield, Ab-agdon, Va.:—Gentlemen: Inclosed find $5.00 for another dalf dozen bottles of the Seven Springs "Iron and Alum Mass." My wife's health is better this winter than it has been for years, and I have spent hundreds of dollars for medicines and physicians' bills, but the "Iron and Alum Mass" is the heapest remedy I have found, and has done the most good, consequently I am encouraged to continue its use, not-withstanding our family physician says it is for RICH PEOPLE with nothing much the matter with them. Well, we are not rich, and I suppose it operates differently on POOR PEOPLE. My wife has been an invalid for years, and is getting better. "Doctors will differ." Send me the Mass. Experience is better than logic. Respectfully,
